King Edward Abdicates British Throne—Duke of York Proclaimed King

Big Snow, First In Long Time

Following some disagreeable & cold weather toward the end of last week, a quiet, heavy snow fell Sunday afternoon and evening, and buried the district to a depth of about 12 to 14 inches locally lying where it fell and Monday had the tops of fence posts decorated with a beautiful white cap. The fall seemed to increase in depth near the mountains, and Cardston reported two inches deeper than we had, and in the foothills district a few miles west of Cardston travel with cars was out of the question entirely and old Dobbin was rung into service to get people around the country side.

The snow is welcomed by everyone, and the way it has remained on the ground without blowing has been of very great benefit to everyone as the ground is very dry, and water supplies in lakes & storage dams is nil. Another nice thing about no wind is the fact that had it drifted, there would have been veritable mountains of snow in places and roads would have been impassable. A Chinook has been in the offing ever since Monday afternoon, but up to daylight Thursday morning had not arrived, and while the weather was not severe it was sharp enough to need good warm clothing.

There was some inconvenience to stockmen and sheepmen. The short grass made it necessary for feeding to be done, but even at that the benefits from the snow will more than offset the trouble from feeding. Lethbridge reported only between 5 and 6 inches of snow from the fall and it was not so heavy in the district to the east.

It is years since such a generous supply of snow has fallen at once and everyone is hopeful that it may be the beginning of another cycle of wet years and the replenishment of water storage supplies both in the mountains and in dams and reservoirs.

Since this report of the storm was written the south west wind has had an inning and the beautiful blanket of snow has been rolled into huge drifts and piles that blocked roads and made motorino next to impossible and anything but pleasant. This morning the wind is warmer and a great deal of snow is melting, but drifts still grow as loose snow is gathered up and piled on them.

Parlev Litchfield's daughter was taken to the hospital last week by Dr. Madill and operated on for appendicitis. She is getting along as well as can be expected.

Hon. Dr. Cross, Provincial Minister of Relief has announced the opening of three Relief Camps in the Pass area for single unemployed, where work on 60 miles of highway it is understood will form part of the surfaced road that is being constructed to connect Alberta's parks

SUPPLEMENTS NEEDED FOR WINTER FEEDING

Dr. O. McConkey of the Ontario Agricultural College, at Guelph, strikes a note of timely warning in a recent bulletin when he says: "In the drought areas of the province mineral deficiency troubles with livestock will be more acute during the winter feeding period of 1936-37, because phosphorus is not readily taken in by plants during dry seasons. The winter feeds will contain less phosphorus than usual, and it will be a wise precaution to start feeding a recognized mineral supplement early in the stable feeding period and so prevent trouble and loss."

"Hay", says Dr. McConkey, "is the most valuable crop grown in Ontario; it covers 30 p.c. of the cultivated acreage. Some farmers are producing hay which is four times higher in protein than others, and a considerable percentage of our hay is too low in the essential minerals to maintain healthy animals."

"There is no need to pay fancy prices for mineral supplements. The necessary minerals, supplied in proper form and balance are not costly, with the exception of iodine; but this element, fortunately, is required in only very small amount."

NEWS NOTES

Warren Porter was sick the first part of the week with an attack of flu.

A. P. Hanley, for six years Mayor of Drumheller, and C. D. Enman of Wetaskiwin, were both returned for another term by acclamation in Monday's nominating, and the slate of Councilmen and School Board members were also sent back without an election.

A large Dutch liner crashed and burned near Croydon, England, Wednesday, and 14 people were killed with all others wounded some it is believed fatally. The liner took off in a heavy fog, and it is believed ripped into two houses before it gained altitude enough to clear them in its flight.

QUINTUPLETS

The following letter was received by a foreign missionary from one of his sheep: "Dear Friend. Please send me 1 lb. of sugar. My wife has given birth to a fine boy last night also a doormat, a rat trap and a screwdriver. It weighed ten lbs. and a straw hat."

Attorney-General J. W. Hugill has ruled that Boxing Day Dec. 26, is a legal holiday. He does not know how extensively it will be observed in the Province. Lethbridge is observing it, and for several years past Raymond has observed this day each year.

Living up the throne, and ruler-ship of 500,000,000 subjects, His Majesty King Edward VIII, on Thursday, read his intention of abdicating in favor of his younger brother the Duke of York, because of his desire for freedom in marriage and the fact that he felt it was too big a job for a single man.

The statement followed a week of suspense and uncertainty in the British Dominion during which time messages of sympathy, confidence and trust in the King were received from all parts of the far flung Empire.

The situation became more tense as the relations between the King, and the Bishop of Esherbury, official of the Church of England became more and more strained. Efforts at reconciliation were unsuccessful, and in order to have the woman he loved and not impair the solidarity and peace of the Empire over which he ruled for less than a year, the following proclamation was issued, and read at 9 a.m. Thursday, M.S.T., over a world wide hook up:

EDWARD'S RENUNCIATION OF HIS THRONE

"I, Edward VIII., of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas, King and Emperor of India, do hereby declare my irrevocable determination to renounce the throne for myself and for my descendants and my desire that effect should be given to his instrument of abdication immediately.

"In token whereof I have here Day of December, 1936, in the into set my hand this Tenth presence of the witnesses whose signatures are subscribed.

"(Signed) EDWARD R. I.
"My execution of this instrument as been witnessed by my three brothers, Their Royal Highnesses the Duke of York, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duke of Kent.

"I deeply appreciate the spirit which has actuated the appeals which have been made to me to take a different decision and I have before reaching my final determination most fully pondered over them.

"MY MIND IS MADE UP"

"But my mind is made up. Moreover further delay cannot but be most injurious to the people, whom I have tried to serve as Prince of Wales and as King, and whose future happiness and prosperity are the constant wish of my heart.

"I take my leave of them in the confident hope that the course which I have thought it right to follow is that which is best for the stability of the throne and empire and happiness of my people.

"I am deeply sensible of the consideration which they have always extended to me both before and after my accession to the throne and which I know they will extend in full measure to my successor.

NAMES PRINCE GEORGE AS SUCCESSOR

"I am most anxious that there should be no delay of any kind in giving effect to the instrument which I have executed and that all necessary steps should be taken immediately to secure that my lawful successor, my brother, His Royal Highness the Duke of York should ascend to the throne."

The document was signed "Edward R. I."

TITLE OF GEORGE VI LIKELY FOR NEW KING

The new King, the Duke of York may choose George VI as his title, and according to present plans, he and his Queen will ascend the throne tomorrow Saturday.

The coronation will take place as was planned on May 12 next year unless future developments make a change in plans necessary.

HI SCHOOL THROUGH A KEYHOLE

(By Denton Young Brewerton)

Hello Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Alberta, this is your hi-school commentator, "Brew" Young speaking and bringing to you hi-School news. "lets go to press"

FLASH:

Some girls are popular and others are not. Some go to dances and have some nice boy (if there are any) ask her if there is any chance to walk home with her. With Mildred Boyson it is different, at the dance Saturday, Nyle Earle asked her the fatal question of walking home with her. She accepted and so they went, after Nyle had left, Mildred being in a restless mood went back to the dance. For a while she was happy, then who should ask her the same question, but that 'Bear' Brummel of Grade XI, Reed Fawus, Mildred a little dazed accepted and again they went.

Again it is that eternal triangle, the most popular triangle of geometry. I asked Mildred what it was all about and here is her answer. "As this is the first time in history this has ever happened, I thought that it might be submitted to Ripley's Believe It or not column." Thank you Mildred, I thought perhaps you were trying to prove Barnum's great statement that a sucker is born every minute.

FLASH:

Why do the students call Burns Larson "Dog?" This is a question which really arouses my interest, as I sit looking at Burns, I can see by his ears a faint resemblance between Burns and one of those sorrowful looking bird dogs. I admit that bird dogs are intelligent, but really, despite all appearances, Burns is to Burns if those slivers in your nose hurt too much, I'll see if the telephone can be made out of something beside wood in the future.

FLASH:

Here is news that is history in the making. Last Saturday night, who should walk home with Molly Bennett but that suave, good-looking student of Grade XII, Duane Widdell. This is really news if you will remember last Saturday night was extremely cold, but that did not matter to Molly in the least. She just sang a few bars of that song from the show, Follow the Fleet. The song was "Oh the Night is cold but Duane is hot."

This is "Brew" Young saying good night and, I'll be seeing ya."

K. G. Woolley is in the Lethbridge Hospital for a few days. He is reported as doing as well as can be expected.

MOTLEY GATHERING AT B. Y. U.

Provo—More states than ever before in the 60-year history of Brigham Young university are represented in the 1936-37 student body, informs Registrar John E. Hayes, who has just completed a list of the 2,000 students by states. Thirty states outside Utah, besides Canada and Mexico, have sent students.

There are 27 students from Canada now at the B.Y.U. The students from Raymond are: LaVonne King and Fay Walker.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held last night with all members of the Council present. Because of the bad roads the Solicitor did not come out from Lethbridge. The minutes of the last four meetings were read and with the Cash statement were accepted. A delegation was present asking about Poll Tax Refunds and the Council were under the impression that this matter had been adjusted inasmuch as it had not been, the Secretary was asked to communicate with the Solicitor at once and see that the matter was cleared up.

Messrs. C. C. Plarche and P. Witlock were present representing the Calgary Power Co. and the Franchise problem was brought up again and the Council gave the matter its second and third readings and passed it unanimously, so that from now on Raymond citizens will be under the Calgary, Power rates. The Council asked for a number of concessions, some of which were granted and some refused. A by pass will be constructed around the business section of the Town as a protection in case of fire. A consideration of rates for churches was also promised with a report on the matter after it had been studied. A proposition for better lighting on streets, etc., was discussed, and a plan arrived at whereby lights will be scattered out throughout the Town a great deal more than at present. In savings the Town and its citizens will gain by about $2,000 per year or so on their energy charge.

Decided to ask the Irrigation District to keep in touch with the P.F.R.A. Committee and see if something could not be arrived at and decided on so that some definite program could be carried out in the spring of the year. If necessary a delegation will go to Regina to press the need of this work as a safeguard for the irrigation farmers of the district.

Four applications for Old Age Pensions were granted, and the Council decided to have all relief worked out by those obtaining it. Work on the roads and other essential matters will be taken care of by this labor as the winter advances. It was felt that it was no more than fair to ask those who receive relief to give labor in return for it. The meeting adjourned at midnight.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE HOLDS DECEMBER SOCIAL

The large living room in Mrs. C. Nilsson's home was all gay in bright Christmas decorations on Thursday afternoon, where Mrs. Nilsson and Mrs. Wm. Paris were joint hostesses to the W. I.

The election of officers was in order, and all officers were elected by acclamation.

After community singing and a Christmas story by Mrs. P. Leavitt, gifts were presented to Mrs. Paris, Nilsson and Stevenson for repeating the Creed by memory, to Mrs. Miller, Fisher, Hall and Alfred for perfect attendance, and an exchange of Christmas presents by all eighteen ladies present.

The hostesses served a delicious lunch of sandwiches, Xmas cake and punch at the conclusion of the social. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Ford.

NEIGHBORLINESS IS PRACTICED BY THE BEAUTIFUL AND THE GOOD

Some men who don't go to church and who for one reason or another make no contribution to their community's welfare through lodge or club, take pride in the fact that they are good neighbors. And that's worth having a quiet, self-contained pride in. For there are some fraternal brothers and some church goers who let their neighborly feelings ooze out in hunch or lodge rooms.

Of course there are a great percentage of church goers and lodge member in Raymond who are such because they are naturally fraternal and enjoy these additional ways of making their lives count for a more brotherly, generous and considerate world. These are also just as good or better neighbors in the first hand, nearly contacts as are those who are neighborly only in the man to man, woman to woman fashion. A survey of donors to a community chest in one of our big cities showed that the greatest number of givers as well as the bulk of the gifts came from those who were church members.

But that should be expected. Carpenters who take special courses in cabinet making are usually better at making a bureau or dresser than one who has not taken any special instructions.

But frank, kindly neighborliness is a beautiful thing, a good thing. It can only emanate from the heart of someone who in a great measure is beautiful and good.

The One whose birth we will soon celebrate said, "Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit." What a glorious good neighborly thing it was for God to send his Son to show us how to get the most out of life by giving all we can to life. And what a wonderful neighbor He was, He who "went about doing good" and who gave us the world's two greatest short stories: "The Good Samaritan" and the "Prodigal Son."

NEIGHBORS

By Mae Smith

A group that gathers, when chores are done,
For a talk and a song and a bit of fun;
The friendliest gathering under the sun—
Our neighbors

Across the meadow a flash-light flows,
Here in the driveway a motor slows,
We greet with smiles and a glad "Hello,"
The neighbors.

We talk of the prices a farm crop brings,
Religion and politics, quilts and kings,
When the winter twilight together brings
The neighbors.

Oh merry group by the fireside warm!
Your fun and friendliness—

THE PERSON OF PERFECT BALANCE

By John Edwin Price

The man or woman of poise maintains a perfect balance. We once knew such a man. He appreciated fully the power of his own personal forces when concentrated against the obstacle he wished removed or when adjusted in proper leverage to lift a given load. This did not cause him to stand aloof from his fellows in complacent self-sufficiency,—disdainful of their powers and abilities.

In fact he realized that in some things others were smarter than he. But this realization did not let him forget for a moment that a man may direct a horse whose strength is greater than his.

This man had developed marvelous reasoning powers. He could use these powers as a leverage to move in his desired direction these superior abilities of others. These reasoning powers also enabled him to choose an even course between foolish plunging on the one hand and the stagnation of those who are afraid to take any risk at all.

Such a person knowing that in the main he is right, is not above listening to the advice of one who may know some few details perfectly but who is unable to comprehend a whole plan of action.

In other words a person who would be going up in life often listens to what others think they know about short-cuts to the top although such listening may be no indication that the heard advice will be heeded. In fact when he has reasoned the situation out by himself in the light of other information he may disregard it.

potent charm—
A bond that is holding us to the farm—

The person of poise who has clearly envisioned a main traffic artery he intends to follow to a certain destination does not get "all balled up" because he mentally entertains many suggested detours.

One reason why the poised individual can listen graciously to the suggestions of others is that while not belittling his own judgment or that of his advisors he can always hold action in abeyance until he has checked his intuitions and their opinions against the facts which bear on the case.

Sometimes he gets at the truth by a friendly idea contest with the advisor. At other times he gains new slants on the situation by arguing for his most recent advisor's views in the presence of someone who holds strongly to opposite opinions.

The rational balance of the person of poise is not upset by exuberant agreement or flattery. Neither is its equilibrium thrown off by severe criticism. He either listens calmly without giving any indication of his real reaction or he contests the point quietly in such a manner as not to reveal that the discussion has gone beyond his present knowledge. If he feels that he needs further light before committing himself he leaves the subject open to be again taken up later.

He strengthens his confidence in himself and likewise others' respect for him by frequently discussing in detail the phases of subjects with which his knowledge and experience makes him thoroughly familiar.

SENTENCE STIMULANTS

It takes the patience of Job to be neighborly with some people. I you "no believe" then borrow your neighbor's Rotarian for December and turn to page 15.

"These folks will get so much of the milk of human kindness that it will sour on their stomachs" said a visitor to a ideally operated industrial plant. Most places have run enough risks on a milk shortage that they ought to be willing to take a few chances on an over-supply, was the smart retort.

It is hard to be patient with people whose wages have been resorted to the 1929 level who still try to chizzle a farmer's product down to the 1932 level.

Mr and Mrs Howard Rasmussen were Lethbridge visitors last Wednesday.

Advertise and watch your business grow. Refrain and watch the whiskers grow. This is an age when buyers demand the market news whether groceries, stock, poultry, or what not is the produce they sell. Examples of the big businesses of the country prove the need of constant advertising.

What Life Insurance Means to the Women and Children of Canada

TO thousands of Canadian families, Life Insurance means financial security against the uncertainties of the future.

To each family deprived of its breadwinner, Life Insurance means food, clothing, shelter and other necessities of life.

It means ready cash to meet pressing obligations during the difficult re-adjustment period.

It means money to pay the rent or meet mortgage payments.

It means funds for the education of children until they are old enough to support themselves.

It means rearing your family in self-respect, free from the humiliation of private charity or public relief.

It means contented retirement for the business woman when she is no longer able to work.

Every working day, Life Insurance disburses $500,000 to Canadian homes. Every day, it helps to keep homes together and families united.

No wonder that Canadian women appreciate the value of Life Insurance, and are grateful to their loved ones whose far-sighted thrift has made possible such vital financial security for themselves and their children.

EXPERIMENTAL STATION LETHBRIDGE

WEEKLY LETTER

LIVE STOCK

This live stock letter is the third in a series of weekly letters reviewing the work done at the Experimental Station. The live stock work at the station is of gradually increasing importance as the production and finishing of live stock becomes more extensive in the irrigated sections where stock of various kinds are gradually increasing in number.

Soon after the Station was started it became evident to the men in charge that live stock production was an important phase of irrigation farming. This is because livestock serve several essential functions in intensive agricultural production the primary of these being consumption of roughages and farm by-products, maintenance or increase of soil fertility and distribution of farm labour and income over a greater part of the year. Therefore, stock should be included in the farm program where high soil fertility, and high yield per acre are required.

The work with live stock at the Station is planned to provide information regarding the place of stock in the farm program by supplying data regarding feeding, breeding and management. An endeavour is always made to have the information before a general need is felt for it in order that it may be available when the demand for it arises. This has been most clearly seen in the trials relating to the finishing of lambs and market cattle extending over twenty-five years in which an evolution in feeding methods and use of feed has gradually taken place during the time since this work was commenced.

Another phase of the work has been that of supplying high class breeding stock when the demand was so great that it could not be filled by private breeders. This was particularly evident with hogs several years ago when a rapid expansion in hog production with a consequent increase in demand for breeding stock took place.

A small herd of Holstein-Friesian cattle is maintained at the Station to provide material for testing home grown rations for milk production and also to be used in pasture investigations. This herd is maintained at a fairly high level of production on twice daily milking and with the use of farm grown grains, bran and minerals. With the alfalfa hay available as roughage in the irrigated districts no high protein supplement appears necessary for good production providing production-bred cattle make up the herd.

Sheep work constitutes a most important phase of the work, particularly in relation to the range areas. A breeding project has been under way for many years, and is being continued in greater detail, for the development of an improved range sheep. This project has already yielded much important information and is producing a strain of sheep more desirable for range than those at present being used. Like so much work with live stock, particularly the breeding phases of the work, much time is required for obtaining results and spectacular results do not often occur. Nevertheless patience and continued effort are yielding results which will be of practical value to producers.

The horse breeding work at the Station has possibly received the greatest public attention during the past three seasons due to 'Chief Leat,' the outstanding Percheron stallion in service at the Station. Present evidence is that he is making a real contribution to the improvement of Percherons in the province and through his progeny will continue to do so for some years to come. Horses still are important in farming operations in Canada and the improvement of the stock is of interest to all who use horse power on their farms.

NEWS NOTES

Don't worry unduly over what has been or what may be. Live for the present as that is all that is yours. You may not be here to carry out next year's well laid plans.

Those close to officials of the Government, are of the opinion that for the present at least no State Credit House will be set up in Raymond by the Provincial Social Credit party, but that Raymond's business will be handled through the Lethbridge house, with possibly an agent appointed here.

Front page of newspapers of the United Kingdom have been covered with news and photos of the Royal family, Mrs Simpson and the international crisis that has developed because of the love affair between His Majesty & Mrs. Simpson. Thursday morning the affair was still "in the air" so to speak with no decision arrived at.

SINCERE APPRECIATION VERSUS FLATTERY

She was a homely old bird, this old black crow. But she had one advantage in this case, in her mouth. No, not a new set of teeth, anybody knows better. It was a hunk of cheese. Foxy old Fox the Flatterer wanted it. Most flatterers do want something. "How beautiful you look today—how bright your eye—how glossy your feathers! I am sure your voice must be lovely. Please let me hear just one song from your golden throat." This was too much for the homely old thing. She made a V of her beak and rent the air with a raucous squawk. Mr. Fox made a big line for the cheese. Then adding insult to injury he handed out some advice about not rusting flatterers. You don't have to take my word for it. Ask Mr. Aesop. They say on the street, 'No matter how thin you slice it it's boloney just the same.' But then we all like a little boloney now and then especially if we now it's our turn to have some and the donor doesn't present it as though it were a club steak.

RELATIVITY

Judge (to woman seeking separation): "How long have your relatives been unpleasant?"
Woman: "Your honor, my relations have always been pleasant; it's his that are the old grouches."

The Cagayan river in the Philippines, went on the rampage Tuesday morning and virtually wiped out one of the richest rice and tobacco farming districts in the Islands. Following a typhoon a deluge of rain swept down the valley, carrying away thousands of screaming and terrified people in its dash toward the seas. Homes, granaries, livestock, everything in fact, was carried away by the flood, and officials state that its cost in human life alone will never be known to say nothing of property loss. Fleas have been made for supplies of rice & vaccine in order to guard against cholera and dysentery.

The Dominion Government has announced its intention of making available to the Province sufficient cheap money to balance the Provincial budgets and take care of indebtedness. It is suggested that the Dominion may assume an increased portion of relief costs, possibly the burden of old-age pensions, and to retire from some fields of taxation in order to give the Provinces more revenue without increasing the burden on the taxpayers of the country. The conference is in session now in Ottawa.
